

Winding Road Equine Rescue & Retirement, Inc.

Our organization is a rescue, rehabilitation and re-homing of abused, neglected and unwanted horses, as well as providing a safe sanctuary for those who are too old, infirm or injured to be re-homed.

Our organization is not a boarding stable or riding club.

Our “Starfish”

Kristin Chambers, executive director or WRERR, calls her rescued horses her starfish. As the story goes, a little boy was walking along the beach throwing starfish back into the ocean. He was asked why he was doing that —after all, he could only save a few and there were thousands lying in the sand.

The little boy replied as he threw a starfish into the ocean, “I made a difference to that one.”

Are You “Top Rail”?

WRERR has begun construction of a rail fence to provide safe containment for the horses that will pass through the gates to a haven of care, protection, love, and respect. Through this unique fundraising effort, you can contribute to its construction and be recognized as a supporter that contributes to the success of this equine rescue organization.

Our goal is to have a personalized plaque bearing the name of the individual or business supporter that contributed to the building of the rail fence mounted on each fence section. The plaque may also commemorate a loved one (animals included!)

When the facility officially opens this summer and visitors walk the winding road to see the rescued and retired horses, they will also see the names of friends and neighbors who contributed to the care and safety of the wonderful horses at Winding Road Equine Rescue and Retirement facility.
